

APPENDIX A

FIRST RESPONDER EQUIVALENCY

First Responder certification plays an important role in the profession of Athletic Therapy and is required by the CATA in order to apply for and attempt the National Certification Examination as well as certification maintenance. The following courses have been approved by the CATA to meet the First Responder requirements of the CATA:

- Advanced Trauma Life Support
- Alberta College of Paramedics Emergency Medical Technician
- Alberta Health and Safety Training Institute Emergency Medical Responder
- American Red Cross Emergency Medical Response (including Oxygen module)
- Arctic Star Wilderness Medicine Level III Industrial First Responder
- Canadian Red Cross Emergency Medical Responder
- Canadian Red Cross First Responder
- Emergency Care First Response (Australia)
- Firemedix First Responder
- International Trauma Life Support
- Justice Institute of BC First Responder
- National Safety Council First Responder
- Occupational First Aid Level 3
- Peak Emergency Response Training Non-Urban Occupational Emergency Care
- Pre-Hospital Emergency Care Council Emergency First Response (Ireland)
- Professional Medical Associates Emergency Medical Responder (must include CPR-HCP)
- Pulse Point Canada
- Sport Physiotherapy Canada First Responder
- Sports First Responder
- SportsMedIQ – First Responder Certification
- St. John's Ambulance Advanced Medical First Responder I
- Wilderness Medical Associates International Wilderness First Responder

BASIC LIFE SUPPORT EQUIVALENCY

The following courses have been approved by the CATA to meet the Basic Life Support requirements of the CATA:

- American Heart Association Basic Life Support
- Canadian Red Cross Basic Life Support
- Croix-Rouge Luxembourgeois
- Heart & Stroke Basic Life Support
- Perri Med CPR Basic Life Support

- Pre-Hospital Emergency Care Council Cardiac First Response Advanced

If you would like to have a course evaluated for FR or BLS equivalency, you must provide detailed outlines and course curriculums to the CATA via info@athletictherapy.org Please provide 4-6 weeks for review.